

Terms and Conditions

Welcome to SparkFleet. By accessing or using our services, you agree to the following Terms and Conditions. Please read them carefully before continuing to use the platform.

1. Data Sources and Attribution

SparkFleet aggregates and displays vessel-related information, tracking data, and maritime analytics by leveraging various third-party sources and collaborations. These sources include, but are not limited to:

- MarineTraffic
- VesselFinder
- MyShipTracking
- BunkerX
- Netpas

We do not claim ownership of any data originally sourced from the above providers. All rights, titles, and intellectual property remain with the respective data providers. SparkFleet acts solely as a data integrator and visualization platform.

2. Data Usage Disclaimer

The information shown on SparkFleet may contain approximations or delays, as it depends on external data feeds and open-source crawling. Users are advised not to rely solely on SparkFleet data for critical operations. We provide no guarantees of completeness, accuracy, or timeliness of the data.

3. Bunker Prices and Port Distances

Bunker fuel price data is provided in collaboration with BunkerX. Port-to-port distance calculations are powered by Netpas APIs. All respective rights remain with their data providers.

4. Limitation of Liability

SparkFleet shall not be held liable for any direct or indirect damages arising from the use of our services. The service is provided 'as is' without warranties of any kind.

5. Changes to Terms

SparkFleet reserves the right to modify these Terms and Conditions at any time without prior notice. Continued use of the platform constitutes acceptance of those changes.